

SPECIAL TRACK PROPOSAL

Title: Fostering digital transformation to enhance global citizenship:
collaboration and mobility in Higher Education

Key Organizer(s):

Ana Balula, ESTGA – University of Aveiro, CIDTFF (Portugal), balula@ua.pt

Sandra Vasconcelos, ESHT – Polytechnic Institute of Porto, CIDTFF (Portugal), s.vasconcelos@esht.ipp.pt

Description and significance of the Special Track:

Digital transformation is posing many different challenges to educators worldwide, having prompted significant changes in the way teaching and learning is perceived. These changes, which have become increasingly relevant for the internationalization of curricula, have made apparent the need for addressing digital collaboration opportunities, that rely on well-designed, coordinated strategies and promote the development of global citizenship and 21st century skills.

Looking for contributions that describe and reflect on the potential of interdisciplinarity, collaboration and internationalization in teaching and learning, this track will explore the latest developments, best practices and trends in Higher Education. Topics of interest include, but are not limited to:

- Innovative collaborative approaches;
- Collaboration in teaching and learning;
- Digital mobility;
- Interdisciplinarity;
- Internationalization of the curriculum;
- Active learning strategies;
- Digital mobility in Education;
- Online teacher training.